EDITOR'S LETTER

With a new year ahead of us we plan to start adding to the Master Index the pedigree charts of our members. We encourage all our members to send us the information that they may have about their families so we can include it in the Master Index.

Some months ago we asked you to send us the information and we have had a very poor response. So we would like to again encourage you to send as little or as much information as you have. It will be for your benefit to have your genealogy's loose ends in the Master Index. If someone else is working on the same family you could be contacted and have a partner in the search or get new information you never had before.

For those of you that have the information already in computer form, it would be a great help to us if the information was sent in GEDCOM file form. If you do not have a way to make a GEDCOM file, then it would be a great help if you could offer to enter the information into the computer in the format the Master Index uses, so we do not have to reenter the information in the computer at CGS.

Those of you that have the information in written form, can just send it to us and we will enter it in our format, which is the same as the one used in the parish register listing that we publish.

This Master Index will include all the entries that have been published so far and the member's donated information. I believe it would be a useful tool in accessing the information we have and it would benefit everyone interested.

As you can imagine it is a great undertaking. The Master Index will grow regularly as we put into it the information we receive and publish every quarter.

The López de Aragón surname in Mexico and La Habana.

by Rafael Nieto y Cortadellas.
first published in "Memorias"
Academia Mexicana de Genealogía y Heráldica

Translated
by Mayra F. Sánchez-Johnson

This lineage is originally from the city of Calahorra, today belonging to the municipality of the same name, in the province of Logroño, dioceses of Burgos, in Spain.

We begin this genealogy with the brothers Pero and Diego López de Aragón, who went to Mexico City at the end of the XVI century. A son of the first settled in La Habana at the beginning of the following century, as we will discuss later.

1. Pero López de Aragón, who we will discuss later.

2. Diego López de Aragón, originally from Calahorra, was first resident of Minas de Temascaltepec, and then Zacatecas, where he resided in 1572 (F. 465 and 466 Vol. 225; and F. 21 Vol. 227, "Inquisitions", Archivo General de la Nación, Mexico, D.F.). Together with his wife Inés Alvarez de Castañeda, he founded in Mexico, around 1584, a chaplaincy of one thousands pesos (file 5, Vol. 4020; and file 2 Vol. 640, "Bienes Nacionales" AGN). This chaplaincy was attained by his son:

Juan López de Aragón y Alvarez de Castañeda, who in 1619 was priest with benefits of Acamistla.

Pero López de Aragón, before mentioned, was originally from Calahorra and resident of Mexico City. He married Tomasina Castañeda de Segura, and they had the following children: Pedro, Luis, Ana María, Catalina, María, Juan, Tomasina, María, Francisco, and Diego Juan Alonso López de Aragón y Castañeda de Segura.

1. Pedro López de Aragón became a priest.

2. Luis López de Aragón was baptized in the Cathedral of Mexico City on March 22, 1581.

3. Ana María López de Aragón, was baptized in the same parish, July 17, 1583. She married Gonzalo del Castillo; they were the parents of Nicolás del Castillo y López de Aragón, baptized in the same parish on February 26, 1612.

4. Catalina López de Aragón was baptized in the same parish, December 2, 1584. She married Luis López de Aguilar. They were the parents of Diego López de Aguilar, who was baptized in the same parish, May 10 1604.

5. María López de Aragón, was baptized in the mentioned parish on August 15, 1587. She seems to have died as a child.

6. Juan López de Aragón is discussed later under "Branch One".

7. Tomasina. López de Aragón was baptized in the same parish on December 1, 1594.

8. María López de Aragón was baptized in the same parish on April 8, 1596, where she married in 1619 with Juan Ruiz de Valderrama y Cervantes, originally from Minas de Taxco, son of Francisco and Guiomar. They were the parents of Tomasina Ruiz de Valderrama, known as Tomasina López de Aragón y Valderrama, who was the wife of Bernardo de Góngora y Trezeño-Palomeque, originally from Mexico, son of Bartolomé and María. They married in the same parish on April 25, 1668.

9. Francisco López de Aragón will be discussed later under "Branch Two".

10. Diego Juan Alonso López de Aragón will be discussed later under "Branch Three".

Branch One

Juan López de Aragón y Castañedas de Segura (already mentioned as son of Pero López de Aragón and Tomasina Castañeda de Segura) was baptized in the parish of Sagrario, Cathedral of Mexico City, on April 22, 1590. He went to La Habana where he made his last will and testament on the 22nd of January, 1621 before the notary Francisco García Caballero. He married Doña Luisa de la Vega and they were the parents of:

Sergeant Bartolomé López de Aragón y de la Vega, baptized in the Cathedral of La Habana on February 16, 1622, where he married on March 29, 1647 with Doña Ursula Ortiz y Collazos. She, in turn, was baptized in the same cathedral on November 14, 1629, leaving a last will and testament before the Notary Bartolomé Nuñez. She died in La Habana on June 22, 1712. She was the daughter of Alguacil Diego Bautista de Ortiz and Doña Jerónima de Collazos, whose death entries are found in the Cathedral of La Habana, on February 16, 1646 and May 6 1643, respectively.

Bartolomé and Ursula were the parents of Isabel, María, Nicolás, Miguel, Francisco, Bartolomé, Jerónima y Luisa López de Aragón y Ortiz. Of whom:

1. Doña Isabel López de Aragón was baptized in the Cathedral of La Habana on January 8, 1657. She married twice; the first with Francisco Muñoz de Lara; and the second on February 3, 1686 with Don Melchor Valerio Pérez de la Cruz Ordaz, son of Melchor Pérez de Ordaz, who was baptized in the same cathedral on December 1, 1622; and Doña Juana de la Cruz y Acevedo, who made testament on September 6, 1713 before Antonio Fernández de Velasco. The descendants of Melchor and Isabel have been discussed in the work El Linaje "Ordaz" en Mexico y Cuba, published in "Memorias", of the Academia Mexicana, No. 8 and 9, pages 135 to 140.

SCIENTISTS OF MATANZAS, CUBA

Extracted from Cultura Cubana
(La Provincia de Matanzas y su Evolución)
by Adolfo Dollero

The province of Matanzas has contributed to the development of the sciences in Cuba in a very notable manner. There are many matanceros that have distinguished themselves in Cuba and abroad for their scientific work and knowledge.

The medical and natural sciences are, more than others, represented by champions born in this province. They all belong to the XIX century, since it was not until the middle of the XVIII century that the doctors, surgeons and pharmacists started to multiply.

This phenomenon was because education was extremely scarce in the first half of the century after the foundation of Matanzas, but as soon as the economic conditions improved the fathers would send their children to La Habana to study.

The sciences, especially the botanical science, took a great leap forward with the work of Sebastián Alfredo de Morales, originally from La Habana, who took residence in Matanzas. His book Flora Cubana was given a prize in Paris. Many other of his works demonstrate the talent and love for the sciences of this great man.

Another scientist, Manuel J. Presas, doctor and naturalist from Matanzas, wrote the notable Historia Natural de Cuba and other works.

At this time the Spaniard Dr. Ramón de la Sagra, more economist than naturalist, had started publishing his works in La Habana: Anales de Ciencias, Agricultura, Comercio y Artes, published from July of 1827; his work published in 1831 was titled Anales de Agricultura e Industria Rural, but this work became a controversial book that even J. A. Saco described it as being "full of absurd statements and contradictions." Later on the Repertorio Físico-Natural was written in collaboration between Poey, Gundlach, Joaquín Barnet, etc.

For 25 years (since the late 1890) Carlos de la Torre shines as the indisputable start of sciences for his discoveries in anthropology, geology, paleontology, etc. He distinguished himself not only in Cuba, but in other countries also.

In the first half of the XIX century many young men born in Matanzas went to France to study medicine. The names of Cartaya, Llorach, Oxamendi, Ulmo, Almagro, Zayas and Gálvez came to give Cuba a group of distinguished clinical doctors and surgeons.

Federico Gálvez, from Sabanilla, was the first surgeons that performed operation of high risk, unknown in Cuba until then. He was also the founder of the Academy of Medical Sciences, Physics and Natural Sciences in La Habana in 1861.

Other distinguished scientist of the times, were Dr. J. Santos Fernández, from Alacranes, who wrote Crónica Médico-Quirúrgica de la Habana; and Dr. Tomás V. Coronado. Among the bacteriologist we have Juan N. Dávalos and Joaquín G. Lebrede; chemists were Joaquín Barnet, and José I. Torralbas; the great hygienists Juan Guiteras y Gener, Domingo Mádan, Gabriel Casuso y Roque, Vidal Solares, Eusebio Hernández, etc.

The Historical-Chemical-Bacteriological Laboratory was founded in the province of Matanzas with the help of such as Dávalos, Mádan, Coronado, etc. This laboratory was a great step forward in the experimental sciences in Cuba.

The Gynecology Clinic that was constructed in Cárdenas in 1894 is also worthy of mention.

The Liceo de Matanzas, from 1863 to 1885 gave services for the development of the sciences in Matanzas, by promoting science competitions during the Juegos Florales, and published also many works of science. The names of the doctors Sebastián A. de Morales, Manuel J. Presas, Joaquín Barnet, Francisco de Jimeno, José Elías Jiménez, Bonifacio Carbonell, Félix de Vera, Domingo L. Mádan, E. Llorach, Vicente A. Tomás, Alberto Schweyer, Etc. figure among the one that contributed to this effort.

Here is a list of distinguished men in the field of science from the province of Matanzas:

Aballí y Arelano, Angel M.: specialist in pediatric. Resided in La Habana, where he was professor of Pediatrics at the University. In 1918 he became a member of the Academy of Science of La Habana. He was born in Matanzas on Sep. 30, 1880.

Almagro, Manuel: Born in Matanzas in 1830, he died in La Habana in 1895. He resided in Paris, France and published his work Persistande du canal Arteriel, in 1863. During the travel of the Official Spanish Scientific Commission he was in charge of the department of ethnography and anthropology from 1862 to 1866.

Amoedo, Oscar: Distinguished doctor and surgeon that resided in Paris since 1889. He was born in Matanzas on Nov. 10, 1863 and studied dental surgery in the University of La Habana, New York and Paris. He became a doctor in Paris in 1898. Since that time he became professor in the Dental School of Paris, a rare opportunity for a foreigner in France.

Angulo y Heredia, Rafael: Distinguished doctor, resident of Paris for many years. He was born in the year 1849. By 1919 he was no longer practicing his profession and was the Chief Executive of the Casa Bancaria Movellan y Angulo, and president of other companies of railroad and transport.

Barnet y Ruiz, Joaquín: Born in 1842 in Matanzas. His works about the fruits and roots of Cuba are very valuable. He collaborated with Felipe Poey in the Repertorio Físico y Natural of the island of Cuba. He died in an explosion during an experiment on March 28, 1886. He was professor of the college La Empresa, and during the war of independence he gave support to the cause. In 1884 was became a member of the Academy of Science of La Habana.

Barnet y Roque de Estrada, Enrique B.: A Member of the Academy of Science of La Habana since July 13, 1906, he wrote many important works which are great works of literature. He graduated from the Universities of New York and La Habana. He belonged to the Society of Scientific Studies from 1900, and also to the Society of Friends of the Nation. He was born on July 14, 1855 and died on September 23, 1916.

Betancourt, Julián: Born in Matanzas in 1872, he died in 1914. He was the author of Medicina Práctica, a book with advice for the mother.

Blanes, J. F.: He was born in Habana, to an Andalusian father and a Cuban mother, in 1848. He resided in Cayo Hueso, and was a naturalist that worked in a rich collection of malacology, and donated it to the Museum of Cárdenas in 1875. Poey, Gundlach and Carlos de la Torre contributed to the formation and classification of this work, where the great majority of the Cuban species are represented.

Bosque y Reyes, Francisco: A Chemist who was born in Limonar on January 24, 1854. He studied in La Habana, Paris, Brussels and Buenos Aires the physic-nature sciences. He received the doctorship in Chemistry and Pharmacy in Brussels. He discovered 24 compounds of chemistry and wrote scientific books in French. He died in Paris on July 31, 1918.

Buigas, Juan Félix: Born in Matanzas, he died in 1905. He wrote various works about the metric system.

Calle, Ezequiel de la: Graduated in Paris, his doctorate thesis was published in the Revista de Ciencias Médicas.

Cartaya y García, Pedro M.: He was born in Matanzas in 1828 and died in January of 1898. His place of birth is not known, some say he was born on Bainoa, other say it was Río de Aura, and still others say it was near Bolondrón, which is in Matanzas. He wrote many scientific works, among them Tratamiento del Hidrocele, approved by the Society of Science of Moutpellier in 1874; and Excursión Higiénica por Matanzas.

Cartaya y García, Domingo J.: Brother of Pedro M., above mentioned and also distinguished doctor in Paris. He was professor of the Institute of Natural History of Matanzas and later went to live in France, where he died in 1892. He was born in Santa Ana.

Cartaya, José L.: Born in 1881, he died in 1917. He was the author of various scientific works published in the most important medical magazines of Cuba.

Casuso y Roque, Gabriel: He was professor of the University of La Habana, who was born in Guamutas in the year 1850. He had started his medical studies when the first war of independence started and he joined with the group headed by Rafael de Quesada, whose expedition came from Nassau and the beginning of 1869. He was taken prisoner after 4 years in the insurrection and was deported to Spain. Once there he continued his medical studies and graduated in 1874. One year later he came back to Cuba and took a post as surgeon in the Hospital San Felipe and Santiago, and later took also the post of surgeon in the Hospital Mercedes. He contributed to the foundation of the Society of Clinical Studies of La Habana. He also founded, together with Dr. Saenz, the scientific newspaper El Progreso Médico.

Coronado, Tomás V.: He was born in Limonar, Matanzas, in 1855, where he attended the college La Empresa. Among his many works, he published, in cooperation with Domingo Mádan, the book Pirexias en la Isla de Cuba, which was given a prize in 1896 by the Academy of Science of La Habana. He was not only doctor on medicine, but also a chemist and a pharmacist. A member of the Universal Academy of Industrial Arts and Sciences of Belgium and member emeritus of the Medical Pharmacists Center of Matanzas.

Dávalas y Betancourt, Juan N.: He was born in Sabanilla on November 6, 1857 and died on December 4, 1910. He started his studies in La Habana and finished in Madrid in 1886. While in Europe he visited the principal scientific centers of Europe and the United States and later went back to Cuba to put to use his vast knowledge. He worked in the Laboratory founded by Dr. Santos Fernández and there he discovered the Koch Bacillus.

Dehogues, Jorge L.: Distinguished oculist from Cárdenas, who wrote many works about his branch of medicine. He was member of the Society of Clinical Studies of La Habana.

Díaz, Eduardo: Doctor of medicine from Guamutas. He was professor and director of the Institute of Matanzas for many years. He wrote many works with the doctors Domingo Mádan and Tomás Coronado. In 1898 he started to promote the reopening of the Public Library of Matanzas which was closed since 1874. His efforts were to end successfully in 1899 when he was the Governor of Matanzas and was able to open the Library again.

Falcón, Alfredo: He wrote the book Tratado de Fisiología. Born in Matanzas, he died in 1897.

Ferrer, Horacio: Born in Sabanilla, he was a medical doctor. His work Manual de Higiene Militar y Primeros Auxilios, was made into a text and prized by the Academy of Sciences.

Gálvez y Alfonso, Federico: Born in Sabanilla on May 2, 1829 and died on January 21, 1889. He was an excellent surgeon in Paris; his thesis was about the cesarean section, dated December 1855. He was member of the Academy of Sciences, and wrote many works, one of the being La Elefantiasis del escroto. He liked the study of natural sciences and Dr. de la Torre appreciated his theory on the illness of the coconut palm tree. In 1869 he moved to New York. He was one of the founders of the Academy of Sciences M. F. y N. of La Habana.

Grande Rossi, Federico: Bacteriologist and clinical doctor of internal medicine. He was born in Matanzas on December 14, 1866. He wrote about 25 books and contributed to the Cronica Médico-Quirúrgica de la Habana. He was also a poet and writer of prose. One of his novel was Any Name, written under the name of Mendo Méndez in 1903. He spoke 4 languages and was the discoverer of the germ "cladotrix invulnerabilis" with Dr. E. Acosta.

Guiteras y Gener, Juan: He was born in Matanzas City on January 4, 1852 to Eusebio Guiteras, distinguished educator and writer, and Josefa Gener. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania as a doctor of medicine and philosophy in 1873. In 1900 he received the doctorate in medicine from the University of La Habana. From 1873 to 1899 he worked in the United States, studying cases of the yellow fever in the U.S., Cuba and Mexico. He was professor of the School of Pathology and Clinical Medicine of Charleston, North Carolina from 1885 to 1889, and the University of Pennsylvania from 1889 to 1899.

Hernández y Pérez, Eusebio: A very good biography of this doctor was written by Nicolás Heredia in 1895. He was well known in Belgium and France. He also worked in Central America where he was professor of Physics in the School of Medicine of Tegucigalpa, Honduras. He wrote many articles for the different medical magazines of Cuba, and was member of the Academy of Sciences, and professor of the University of La Habana. Among his many books he wrote in 1885 Nuestra Misión en el Destierro, while he was in Cayo Hueso.

Huerta y Ponce de León, Santiago de la: Distinguished professor of the University of La Habana, where he taught Geology, and Mineralogy. He was born in Matanzas on April 6, 1870. Parish Register of Marianao and Guanabacoa, Habana, Cuba

Baptism, Marriages and Deaths from 1667 to 1886

The transcriptions from the parishes of Marianao and Guanabacoa are selected entries of families that were being studied at the time by Francisco Xavier de Santa Cruz and his associates.

The extractions cover the years 1667 to 1886. There was no order to the entries, but they have not been put in chronological order because some of the entries lack the date. We have kept the entries in the same order that they were found so as to not destroy any clues that they may offer.

The entries from Marianao have the source no. 060203, and the entries from Guanabacoa have the source no. 060602

The information contained in the following listing has the same format as previously used. To recap: The surname and given name are found first, followed by the sex of the individual, the date of the marriage, a letter indicating whether the individual listed is the one receiving the ordinance (B) for baptism, (M) for marriage, (D) for Death, or is associated genealogically (G); this G follows the names of parents or other spouses and witnesses, if any. The numbers at the very end refer to the page and entry number of the original transcription. These are helpful in looking at the individuals identified in a given entry and may also be used for further reference in corresponding with CGS to get a printout of the entry as it appears in the original transcription.
